Institute of Classical Studies

Senate House, Malet Street, London WC1E 7HU

Fridays at 16:30 in room 234*

Jun 2  Sarah Middle (Open University) Linked Data and Ancient World Research: studying past projects from a user perspective

Jun 9  Donald Sturgeon (Harvard University) Crowdsourcing a digital library of pre-modern Chinese

Jun 16*  Valeria Vitale et al. (Institute of Classical Studies) Recogito 2: linked data without the pointy brackets

Jun 23*  Dimitar Iliev et al. (University of Sofia “St. Kliment Ohridski”) Historical GIS of South-Eastern Europe

Jun 30  Lucia Vannini (ICS) The role of Digital Humanities in Papyrology: Practices and user needs in papyrological research

&  Paula Granados Garcia (Open University) Cultural Contact in Early Roman Spain through Linked Open Data resources

Jul 7  Elisa Nury (King’s College London) Collation Visualization: Helping Users to Explore Collated Manuscripts

Jul 14  Sarah Ketchley (UWashington) Re-Imagining Nineteenth Century Nile Travel & Excavation for a Digital Age: The Emma B. Andrews Diary Project

Jul 21  Dorothea Reule & Pietro Liuzzo (Hamburg) Issues in the development of digital projects based on user requirements. The case of Beta mašāḥēft

Jul 28  Rada Varga (Babeș-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca) Romans 1by1: Transferring information from ancient people to modern users

*Jun 16 & 23, room G24A

digitalclassicist.org/wip/wip2017.html

Each seminar will offer an overview of the subject suitable for postgraduate students or interested colleagues in Archaeology, Classics, Digital Humanities and related fields, along with suggested reading, practical exercise and discussion topics. No advance preparation is required, but you will get the most out of these seminars if you check out the short bibliographies suggested on the programme website.

ALL WELCOME