

Open Access Drop-In

UCL Open Access and UCL Press invite you to a drop-in session to find out more about open access options and support available at UCL.

Date: Wednesday 26th October 2016 (15.00-18.30)

Venue: JBS Haldane Student Anatomy Hub, Anatomy Building

15:00-16.45 Drop-in Session

Drop in to meet the Open Access Team and UCL Press to learn more about the HEFCE mandate for REF2020 and publishing with UCL Press, the UK's first fully open access university press.

16.45-17:00 Presentation

Presentation for the 10 millionth UCL Discovery download to Prof. Daniel Miller (UCL Anthropology).

17:00-18.30 Speakers and book launch / drinks reception

Find out more about the impact of open access publishing on the careers of guest speakers, and about UCL's leadership in the open access arena. Speakers include:

- Andrew Morris, Honorary Fellow at UCL IOE, and author of Why Icebergs Float: Explaining Science in Everyday Life. (UCL Press)
- Nicholas Gold, Senior Lecturer, Department of Computer Science

Speeches will be followed by drinks and the launch of Why Icebergs Float: Explaining Science in Everyday Life (UCL Press), a brand new open access book that explains how science can solve life's mysteries.

Register your interest and find out more uclopenaccess2016.eventbrite.co.uk